Neither party shall disclose the other's Confidential Information to any third party except as required by law, regulation, or court order, or to professional advisers bound by duties of confidentiality.

This obligation of confidentiality shall survive termination of these Terms for a period of three (3) years.

9. Limitation of liability

9.1 Exclusions

Nothing in these Terms shall limit or exclude either party's liability for: death or personal injury caused by negligence; fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation; or any other liability that cannot be lawfully limited or excluded.

9.2 Limitation

Subject to clause 9.1, our total aggregate liability to you under or in connection with these Terms, whether in contract, tort (including negligence), breach of statutory duty, or otherwise, shall not exceed the total fees paid by you to us in the 12-month period immediately preceding the event giving rise to the claim.

9.3 Indirect losses

Subject to clause 9.1, neither party shall be liable to the other for any indirect, special, incidental, or consequential loss or damage, including but not limited to loss of profits, loss of revenue, loss of data, loss of business opportunity, or loss of goodwill, howsoever arising.

11.3 Termination for cause

We may suspend or terminate your access to the Platform immediately if: you breach these Terms; your subscription fees remain unpaid for more than 14 days; or we reasonably believe your use of the Platform poses a security risk, may harm other users, or violates applicable law. Where practicable, we will notify you by email before or promptly after taking such action.

11.4 Effects of termination

Upon termination: your licence to access and use the Platform will immediately cease; you must ensure all Authorised Users discontinue use of the Platform; we will make Customer Data available for export for 30 days following termination, after which it will be securely deleted; any accrued rights and obligations, including payment obligations for the period up to termination, shall survive.

11.5 Survival

Clauses that by their nature should survive termination shall continue in force, including clauses relating to intellectual property, limitation of liability, indemnification, confidentiality, and governing law.

12. Cooling-off period

If you are a consumer (an individual acting for purposes outside your trade, business, or profession), you may have a statutory right to cancel your subscription within 14 days of purchase under the Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013. To exercise this right, please contact us at the email address below.

If you have accessed or used the Platform during the cooling-off period, we may deduct a proportionate amount for services already provided.

This clause does not apply to business-to-business subscriptions.

13. Force majeure

Neither party shall be liable for any failure or delay in performing its obligations under these Terms to the extent that such failure or delay is caused by circumstances beyond that party's reasonable control, including but not limited to acts of God, pandemics, government actions, strikes, fire, flood, cyber-attacks, internet or telecommunications failures, or third-party service provider outages. The affected party shall use reasonable efforts to mitigate the effect of the force majeure event and shall resume performance as soon as reasonably practicable.

We may update these Terms from time to time. Material changes will be notified to you at least 30 days in advance via email or through the Platform. Continued use of the Platform after the effective date of any changes constitutes your acceptance of the updated Terms.

14.3 Assignment

You may not assign or transfer your rights or obligations under these Terms without our prior written consent. We may assign our rights and obligations under these Terms to an affiliate or in connection with a merger, acquisition, or sale of all or substantially all of our assets.

14.4 Severability

If any provision of these Terms is found to be invalid or unenforceable, that provision shall be limited or eliminated to the minimum extent necessary, and the remaining provisions shall continue in full force and effect.

14.5 Waiver

No failure or delay by either party in exercising any right or remedy under these Terms shall constitute a waiver of that right or remedy.

14.6 Third-party rights

A person who is not a party to these Terms shall not have any rights under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 to enforce any term of these Terms.

14.7 Notices

Any notices required under these Terms shall be in writing and sent by email. Notices to MindsetOS should be sent to the contact email address specified below. Notices to the Customer will be sent to the email address associated with the Customer's account.

15. Governing law and disputes

These Terms shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales. Any disputes arising out of or in connection with these Terms shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales.
